Dear Copy Shop Personnel,

One of our customers is presenting this letter to you in connection with a request to print and/or bind one or more parts of our casebook, Intellectual Property Law: Cases & Materials.

We appreciate your desire to honor the copyright notice we've placed on our book materials. Please rest assured, however, that we have provided our customer with a digital copy of our book precisely so that the book can be printed and bound in a manner that our customer finds most appropriate, at a shop like yours.

If you have any questions about our book, please don't hesitate to visit our web site to see how we distribute our digital books to our customers. The web address is <http://www.semaphorepress.com>.

Regards,
